Hi Richard,

Happy New Year to you & yours.

The air system has worked very well so far this winter. Marc is very happy with the operation; the incoming temps have been around 60 degrees pretty much all of the time. The system seems to be keeping up with our welders as far as evacuating fumes is concerned, so every one is happy. Well as happy as they get here in the winter :)

To be honest Marc was worried that the system would not have enough capacity and that the incoming air would be colder. I am happy to say that he is pleasantly surprised at how efficient the system is.

Thanks for the follow up, I can safely say that if we need more ventilation we will definitely install another one of your systems.

Sincerely,

Darin Gillies
